MISSIONARIES TELL EXPERIENCES IN HONDURAS FIELD

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sweany
Here After 18 Months in Service of Adventists

Americans do not know how to appreciate comforts and civilization until they have lived in Spanish-American countries.

This is the opinion of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sweany, who recently returned from eighteen months' service in Honduras under the Board of Foreign Missions of the Seventh Day Adventists. They are now residing temporarily at 133 North Jackson street with their daughter, Miss Joy Sweany, who is now a graduate nurse at the Glendale Sanitarium.

A very pleasant voyage from Central America was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Sweany. Honduras is almost directly south of New Orleans on the northern coast of South America. The trip across the Gulf of Mexico occupied four nights and three days. The weather was very enjoyable.

"The climate in Honduras is nice all right," declared Mr. Sweany. "We could live there all our lives very comfortably as far as the climate is concerned. Although it gets warm during the day, it is always cool at night if you are where the air can circulate. One sleeps under a light covering the year around. Natives revel in the sunshine but foreigners cannot stand it."

Men Carry Parasols
Men make a habit of carrying parasols and sunshades in Honduras according to Mrs. Sweany. She said that the principal male headgear was a light cork helmet of the type worn in the tropics.

"The mercury doesn't register so high there, but it seems so much hotter because the sun is right overhead," remarked Mrs. Sweany. Although May, which is right after the rainy season, is conceded to be the hottest month, she declared that there seemed to be little difference in the temperature.

"There are no rains in the temperate zones like there are in the tropics," stated Mr. Sweany. "The rain comes down with a dash and roar."

Some spells of continuous rain, according to Mr. and Mrs. Sweany, last (Continued on Page 9)

Mr. and Mrs. Meinken And Daughter in City

Mr. and Mrs. D. Meinken and daughter Mate and Fred Langharst, all of Cincinnati, O., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Dietrich at 434 Patterson avenue. Mrs. Meinken and daughter visited here six years ago and are greatly surprised at the wonderful improvements and growth that have taken place in that time.

Mr. Meinken is one of the prominent building contractors of Cincinnati, having built some of the largest factories and schools in that city, and is also a director of a bank there. Mr. Langharst is with the B. & O. R. R. Mr. and Mrs. Dietrich are trying to persuade their friends to locate here permanently.

H. T. STEVENS ATTENDS

Proof of prosperity. Somebody spent a twenty dollar gold piece at the T. D. & L. theatre last night. Try to find one if you can. The more the merrier.

Plung! Plink! Blang! Rattle! Rattle! Rattle! Evolution of Ford!

Harland Durand, a La Canada dairyman who has a host of friends in this city, boasts of a Ford that—Started as a touring car, Became a bus, then a delivery truck, Converted into a racing machine, Won prize money in a recent event at Bakersfield, And now is a "bug" used to haul a milk can trailer.

Eddie Winfield and Sam Durand, manufacturers of the Winfield carburetor, at 314 East Broadway, got their early experience in motor mechanics by tinkering with this machine which has the following historical equipment:

- 1911 gas tank (borrowed from a Buick).
- 1912 ignition system (antiquated).

- 1922 Winfield carburetor (can't be beat).

S. C. PACKER BUYS CORNER CENTRAL AND COLORADO

Southeast Portion Secured for Studebaker's Future Home;
Auto Row Is Moving

Indicating that "automobile row" in Glendale eventually will be found on Colorado boulevard, S. C. Packer of the Packer Auto company, San Fernando Valley distributors for the Studebaker, announces today that he has purchased the southeast corner of Colorado boulevard and Central avenue in two parcels.

The corner was obtained from Edward A. Estes and is 87 feet on Colorado and 150 feet deep on Central. From George F. Staub, he bought 50 feet frontage on Colorado of similar depth. There are dwellings on the property to be moved. This will give the Studebaker one of the most prominent locations in the city and a building will be erected in the near future.

Rentals Going Up

Mr. Packer states that the lease on his present quarters will soon run out and that the rental values on Brand boulevard make it mandatory that the motor car dealers using but the ground floor for show room and garage purposes must give way to mercantile establishments.

As a result of this move on the part of the Packer Auto company, it is probable that the several other automobile agencies now loosening anchors from Brand boulevard locations will look to Colorado for locations. This will entail the erection of several suitable buildings in the very near future and add impetus to the growth of Glendale.

MRS. J. B. McENANY DESCRIBES TRIP IN SEMI-TROPICS

Glendale Woman Sees Many Interesting Sights on Recent Visit Through Canal

Mrs. James Bernard McEnany is now back at her home, 206 West Elk street, following a trip of two months' duration to the semi-tropics. "You can tell everybody I am mighty glad to be back in Glendale again," remarked Mrs. McEnany. She declared that the feeling of joy to step upon United States soil again after visiting Central America could not be imagined.

After a voyage of twenty-one days, Mrs. McEnany arrived in Havana where she was met by her brother, Dr. L. Neal Rudy, who had come from New York City. Together they visited points of interest in Cuba and various winter resorts in Florida.

Ex-Premier Venizelos of Greece and wife and Alden Anderson, who has twice been a candidate for the governorship of California, were among the distinguished passengers on board the steamship when it departed from Los Angeles Harbor. Mrs. McEnany observed that the ex-premier was a very studious individual, although very pleasant and courteous.

Impressed By Canal

The trip through the Panama Canal, which took from 6 o'clock in the morning until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, impressed Mrs. McEnany immensely. She declared the machinery operating the locks was the most gigantic she had ever seen. She said that the canal also seemed to be an excellent illustration of human brain power.

"It is a peculiar fact," remarked Mrs. McEnany, "the east end of the canal is farther west than the west end."

Cristobal at the east end of the canal did not make much of a favorable impression upon Mrs. McEnany. However, she enjoyed the extra large delicious bananas which were sold there by women who sat at the edge of the street.

"Central American coffee?" inquired Mrs. McEnany. "I didn't like it. They don't roast it like we do; in fact, they don't roast it at all—they burn it. Then they make it strong and thick like syrup. I had (Continued on Page 10.)"

PLEA IN FAVOR OF CANCELLING U. S. FOREIGN DEBT

Banker and Economic Expert States His Views at Men's Club Last Night

Cancellation of the foreign debt was recommended last night to members of the Men's Club of the Tropical Presbyterian church by Edward Elliott of Los Angeles, who was a professor of economics while ex-President Woodrow Wilson was in the same department at Princeton, later was a member of the faculty of U. S. C., and is now vice president in charge of personnel and research at the Security Trust & Savings Bank.

"We are the only one great solvent nation of the world," declared Mr. Elliott, "and the duty rests with us of doing something to assist the rest of the world. Thus far we have done nothing to lift the world from its economic slough. All that we have done so far has been to sell the nations of Europe goods which they do not have the money to pay for."

Mr. Elliott said that he recommended the cancellation of the foreign debt, not from any sentimental reason whatever, but out of complete failure, after intensive study of the subject to see how it ever could be paid.

Huge Sum Is Owed

He explained the fact that Europe now owes merchants and the government of this country $14,000,000,000, which means $40,000,000 a year interest. He stated that the United States now possesses about 60 per cent of the mined gold in the world and that the entire gold in Europe would only be sufficient for two or three such payments.

The only possible solution of the matter, according to Mr. Elliott, would be for Europe to sell us more merchandise than we sold her and allow the difference to be applied upon the debt. He said that this was absolutely impossible. He explained the difficulty of Europe supplying the United States with merchandise without injuring our labor and industrial life.

What Is Solution?
Mr. Elliott stated that, so far as he could see, the soundest economics would be to wipe the slate clean and charge the foreign debt up to the cost of war.

"I am just stating a few of these things," said Mr. Elliott. "There is no rule of thumb. Nobody knows. We will struggle along in the hope that somebody will find a solution."

"The world wants Germany to pay and I think she ought to pay, but how is she going to do it?"

"For my own part I have never been able to believe that we could live successfully alone either politically or economically. We are dependent upon the rest of the world for prosperity and the rest of the world is dependent upon us."

Too Much To Expect
"I speak on the subject of general conditions with some hesitation because of the difficulty of arriving at any conclusion. It is too much to believe that anyone, anywhere could find a solution for all of the problems which confront us."

As president of the club, H. E. Fry of 333 West Cerritos avenue, made a number of announcements. The speaker was introduced by Atty. Harry C. Wesley of 1235 South Maryland avenue. Following his speech refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed.

Among others present were L. T. Rowley, L. C. Denman, Sidney Salzman, Albert Salzman, Dr. J. Anderson, E. J. Rensick, H. B. Goldsborough, F. C. Richardson, S. E. Brown, Sam Brown, Harry St. Clair, James F. Winnard, Leo D. Hyer, William Malcom, Fred Albright and S. H. Wilcox.

Jesse S. Stine Gets $1025 Insurance

It was a dark and stormy night—Jesse S. Stine, as in the back seat he usually occupies at a local theatre the evening of January 30 while his machine was parked out in front in a miserable rain.

Somebody took advantage of the rainy weather and the comfortable car—and they got out of the country with it.

Instead of waiting the usual sixty or ninety days, C. L. Booth, representing the Union Automobile Insurance Company of Lincoln, Neb., handed Mr. Stine a check for $1025 yesterday.

Credence was given the unusual letter by Captain Adams and the homicide squad who have sought Taylor's slayer during the last month. Captain Adams declined to announce the name of the man who wrote the letter and declared that he evidently was scholarly and knew what he was talking about.

NOTED PIANIST IS GIVEN OVATION AT CLUB CONCERT

Brahm van den Berg Presents
Program of Great Merit
To Large Audience

To an audience of more than 400 members and friends of the Glendale Music club, the most remarkable program of its character since the founding of the organization was given last night at the high school auditorium by Brahms van den Berg, concert pianist of world-renown, and his interpretation of the various numbers was greeted with the ovation of this large gathering. The program presented by Mr. van den Berg was as follows:

I.
"Fantasia" (Chopin).
"Legend" (Raf).
"Te Jacques" Waltz No. 2 from "Family Album," a most delightful, rippling melody of Mr. van den Berg's composition. This number was repeated on the Knabe Ampico from a previous recording by him.

II.
"Polka de W. R." (Rachmaninoff).
"Love's Dream" (Liszt).
"Concert Etude" (Mozzkowsky).
This latter number called forth repeated applause until this musical artist responded with an encore, choosing "Chopin's Waltz in C Sharp Minor."

III.
"La Campanella" (Liszt).
"Capriccio" (Brahms).
The Ampico played parts of the "Capriccio" from a previous recording of Mr. van den Berg without a break in the continuity of the music.

Called Forth Many Times
The last number of this group was "Rhapsodie No. 6" (Liszt), which also met with tremendous applause, calling forth the artist many times to acknowledge the appreciation of those present until he responded to an encore by playing "Chopin's Study on the Black Keys."

The musical colony of Glendale and southern California is proud to name Mr. van den Berg as one of its distinguished residents. His first appearance was made in Brussels, where his exceptional ability was rewarded by unstinted praise from many great artists. His concerts in Europe and America since then have been great artistic successes and he has been placed well among the greatest of modern pianists by musical critics.

Mr. van den Berg's appearance last night in concert for the Glendale Music club was through the courtesy of the Loomis-Shuck Music company.

President's Announcement
Announcement was made by Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, president of the Glendale Music club, that during the present epidemic of colds and influenza the Junior auxiliary will meet only once a month, on the second Saturdays. She also told of the grand concert being planned for Thursday night, March 23, at the high school celebrating county federation music week. The program for that night will be given by the federated music clubs of Glendale and will be open to the public. The federation officers and other clubs in the federation will be special guests for that night.

Mrs. Jones also spoke of the great enthusiasm being taken in the Music Memory Contest, and announced the prizes which have been donated. The fourth and last week of the contest will begin on Monday, and will be followed by a week in which to review the forty compositions being used in the contest before the final tryouts and awarding of prizes.

Rag Doll Dance Is Thoroughly Enjoyed

A "Rag Doll Dance" was given last night in the I. O. O. F. hall of the new Ralphs building by Glendale's Own Syncopators.

A large number of the younger set were present and each couple seemed to be having a thoroughly good time.

A feature of the evening was the promenade of Myrtle Budd of 415 South Central avenue, who tried out his melodious but mournful saxophone in various parts of the room. It developed during the evening that Phil Dillinger of 116 North Columbus avenue, who played traps, has a beautiful voice. He tried hard at times to drown out his drum. Miss Marian Jones of 376 West Lexington Drive, who played the piano, exhibited great animation and Ben Barr, the violinist, also had a large evening.

The dance was under the direction of C. H. Dillinger of Los Angeles, brother of Phil Dillinger. It is his desire to stage a similar dance every week or two.

Small celluloid kewpies were given away as souvenirs.

BABY LIKE ITS FATHER?

LONDON—The difficulty which Solomon experienced when he was asked to decide "Whose is the child?" confronted three judges in the King's Bench divisional court.

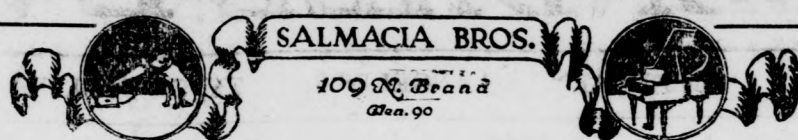

It presented itself in this form: Can you tell the father by an infant's looks? And is the resemblance evidence?

There was much amusing discussion crystallized in two parallel views.
"Babies resemble nothing but babies," said Justice Darling, while Mr. Mickelthwaite, who was counsel in the case, followed with a comment that made the judges and the lawyers shake with laughter. "My contention," he said solemnly, "is that babies at a certain age are like nothing on earth."

Mr. Mickelthwaite, who appeared on behalf of a young man, asked the court to set aside an order made in favor of a girl.

"The girl showed the baby to the young man and said that it 'spoke for itself.'"

Air Travel Termed Safe by Army Pilot

LAWTON, Okla.—Aviation transportation is now as safe as railway transportation. In fact, there are fewer accidents in proportion to the mileage covered than on the railroads, according to Lieutenant-Colonel Paul W. Beck's annual report on flying.

Lieutenant-Colonel Beck is the assistant commandant at Post Field and has had much experience as a flyer. His report stated that pilots in cross-country flying traveled 826,000 miles last year. Planes flying around the field totaled 846,000 miles. Together the total mileage flown is equal to sixty-seven times around the world.

During 1921 eleven persons were killed in airplane accidents. This makes the average distance flown to each man killed approximately 152,000 miles.

Selling Children for Food, Russian Report

LONDON—Messages from Moscow quote the Vistka Pravda to the effect that in the village of Bersnik, near Vitka, parents are selling their children for food on account of the famine. A certain Pogudia is said to have sold his daughter for a handful of gold, ten pounds of sugar, five pounds of butter and a bucket of sour milk. In another case a man sold a young girl for two pounds of peas, five pounds of bread and a hundred thousand Soviet Rubles.

Fifty people, says the newspaper, die every day at Odenburg, and the whole town is filled to overflowing with starving refugees. The people are living upon dogs and other domestic animals, lizards and birds. Out of three million draught animals only 200,000 remain, and out of 25,000,000 sheep less than half that number are left.

Bandits Get $4000, But Overlook $3800

GRANITE CITY, Ill.—While a young woman sat at the wheel of their machine and kept the motor running, three automobile bandits held up and took $4,000 from Louis Cool, proprietor of a soft drink bar here. Cool was returning from the bank with the money. He was accompanied by his daughter-in-law. The bandits overlooked $3800 which Cool had hidden inside his shirt.

AGREE UPON REDUCTIONS

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Commandants of government arsenals at Rock Island, Ill., Watertown, N. Y., and Springfield, Mass., in a conference here decided to reduce the personnel of the arsenals 50 per cent if contemplated army reductions are agreed to by congress.

Millionaire "Newsie" to Pay Big Alimony

CHICAGO—Tony May, the "millionaire newsboy," must pay his wife $600 a month alimony. Notwithstanding Tony's protests that he was "only a poor workman at $12 a week selling flowers," Judge Hugo Friend ordered this when he granted Mrs. Lauretta May a divorce. Mrs. May charged desertion.

In her bill Mrs. May asserted that her husband was in receipt of a monthly income of over $400 from his real estate holdings, in addition to the income from several other business enterprises. Tony denied he was wealthy.

WILLYS-KNIGHT RUN COMBINED BARGAIN PERFECTED TENSION ON SPEEDWAY IS AND USED AUTO SPRINGS FEATURE GIVEN REVIEW SALE UNDER WAY OF BUICK CAR

Great Showing Last July Is Recalled; Dependability
Of Car Indicated

In a review of the accomplishments set up in California motordom during 1921, according to George T.
Smith of the Willys-Overland agency here, no history can be complete without a mention of the sensational record of a Willys-Knight motor car established last July on the Fresno speedway. Maintaining an average speed of better than forty-three miles an hour for a period of ten days and ten nights, this automobile established a record of 10,387 miles through this long grind, with only one motor stop.

"This run," says Mr. Smith, "was held over the Fresno speedway when the torrid heat of the San Joaquin country registered as high as 142 degrees Fahrenheit on the wooden saucer. The run was held under the strict observance of such newspaper notabilities as Al C. Joy and "Scotty" Mortland.

Up to Expectations
"The purposes of the run on the part of the Willys-Overland Pacific company officials was simply to force home to the minds of the public the really remarkable performance ability of the sleeve-valve motor, with which all Willys-Knight cars are equipped. The run and the record lived up entirely to the expectations of the merits of the motor and car. The first 7289 miles were made without a motor stop for any purpose and, although it was our intention to make a non-stop run, all of the executives of the company took great pride in the additional proof of the dependability of the motor."

Thieves Have Fondness For Danger Signals

Instead of "button, button, who cut the traffic button?" it is now
"Light, light, who stole the red lights?" that is worrying various officials of motordom throughout the southern part of the state as well as locally.

Red lanterns used to mark dangerous spots in the highways where construction work is under way or where piles of sand and danger lives have been stolen recently, according to a report just filed by the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Auto club officials are much concerned over the matter, as the absence of red warning lights at night in some of the more dangerous spots have narrowly missed causing some accidents. No attempt is made at an explanation of the matter, because club officers cannot determine what use the red lanterns are to any person.

According to officials of the state highway engineering offices, much trouble in the stealing and destruction of red warning lanterns has been encountered during the past seven years, but that it is much worse at the present time. Convictions for stealing the lanterns have been secured in some districts, and action is to be sought in others.

A plea will be issued by the Automobile club to all county motor-vehicle officers to be particularly watchful
in an endeavor to apprehend any miscreant stealing or destroying the warning signals. State highway engineers, according to a statement just issued, will co-operate to the fullest extent in prosecuting all cases where a person is found making away with red lanterns placed at dangerous spots on the highways.

DANGER SIGNS

The first four danger signs which mark the highways of this country were recommended by the International Road Congress at Paris, 1918.
Since then the American Automobile association recommends four others for use near schools, quiet zones, dangerous bridges, underpasses and places of extreme danger.

Glendale Nash Agency Making Feature of Number of Overhauled Cars

"Just as soon as a car is driven around the block it is used," declared
E. E. Sutton, manager of Glendale Nash Sales, recently announcing the combination bargain and removal sale now in progress at 207 North Brand boulevard. "Every car on the street is a used car. Nine million people in America are driving cars.
Don't forget they're all driving used cars."

Mr. Sutton believes that this sale offers splendid opportunity to the people of Glendale to secure efficient used cars at reasonable prices. He points out the fact that the cars on sale are not either junk or useless,
but a splendid collection of useful cars in first-class condition. He asserts that the service department has overhauled each car thoroughly.

Makes Liberal Offer
Mr. Sutton says he has no hesitation in advertising these cars as the greatest values ever presented.

Besides the Nashes in stock are Fords, Hupmobiles, Buicks, Stephens and Velies.

As proof of his confidence in the quality of the cars offered in this sale, Mr. Sutton is offering to exchange any car after five days' trial.

Dance Hall's Morals High in Opinion of Managers at Chicago

CHICAGO—Dance hall proprietors rate the moral standards of the average patron of their places higher than the high school for teacher, according to Miss Jessie Binford, of the Juvenile Protective association.

Miss Binford's assertion astonished a large gathering of parents and teachers who had assembled at the Chicago Woman's club to discuss the "dance hall evil" and other alleged evils affecting the lives of young girls in this "decadent age."

It was suggested that means should be taken to keep the high school girls away from the dance halls and that a committee be appointed to take the matter up with the managers.

On this point Miss Binford said:
"Dance hall managers don't want the high school girls. They will not admit that their places contaminate the girls. They say, on the other hand, that the reverse is true. They think their patrons are of the higher moral standard of the two classes."

"I don't say it's true, but that is what many of the managers think."

Real Peace Urged by Premier to Help Trade

BY DAVID M. CHURCH
Written for International News Service
LONDON—The Genoa conference will not attempt to concoct any governmental nostrums for the restoration of trade, if Lloyd George has his way.

"The British prime minister has made it very plain that he does not favor government intervention of trade, and has no patience with those who would have the various governments of the world attempt to re-establish trade by legislation or governmental edicts."

Trade will take care of itself when the world has again "put its hat on straight," according to Lloyd George and it is generally understood he will urge the Genoa conference to devote its efforts to stabilizing world conditions so that the confidence of traders may be renewed and they will venture the risks which go to make international trade.

"As long as there are questions which incite unrest and create disturbances you will not get trade to take the necessary risks," Lloyd George explained in outlining his theories as to trade restoration.
"Trade is in a worse position
throughout the world than anybody has ever witnessed. In our own land there are two million of unemployed; in the United States of America there are many more. There is greater need for our goods in the world than ever before; there is less demand."

"It is not so much that the world cannot produce the wealth which would enable it to pay for the goods if credit could be got, but credit is impossible without confidence and stability; and the problem which confronts Britain and the world might be summed up in one phrase—restoration of international confidence."

"International confidence is the basis of international trade. We are a country above all that depends upon international trade. If there is no international trade there is no reason here to restore that you must restore international confidence."

"Electric currents of trade must necessarily be irregular and feeble in the disturbed atmosphere of the world, and without confidence you cannot build up credit. Without credit you cannot have trade, and without trade you cannot fill up the exhausted reservoirs depleted by the war. Our burdens will become intolerable and bankruptcy will stare
the world in the face unless action is taken. International action—not merely the action of one land but of all lands."

"In order to restore confidence you must establish a real peace in the world."

"Trade has had a great shock in the war. It feels timid. It feels frightened. It is scared. You must restore its nerve."

W. A. Tanner Explains Why
Automobile Is Comfortable
On All Highways

One reason Buicks are so comfortable to ride in is on account of the special attention given at the factory in Flint, Mich., to the perfected tension springs, according to W. A. Tanner of Tanner & Hall, Ltd., 237 South Brand boulevard.

"Just imagine yourself on a lumber wagon with its steel-tired wheels rambling over the road at fifteen or twenty miles an hour," suggested Mr. Tanner. "How long would you care to ride? For automobiles springs of special design and construction have been developed to absorb road shocks and thus guard the motor, the transmission and all the working parts against the dangers arising from contact with the road and to guard the passengers against the discomforts of rough going."

Called Scientific Study
"The adaptation of a spring suspension to a motor car is a scientific study. Few owners of cars realize the extent of the experimental work,
the research and the thought applied to the design of the springs of their automobiles. As in the case of so many parts of the well-engineered car, springs must be designed and built to work in conjunction with the other parts of the car. Springs must not only be perfect in themselves, but perfect in their relation to power and load, comfort and safety, performance and durability. Such a great part of a car's success on the road depends on the correct application of springs that more than the usual amount of attention is given to the design and manufacture of Buick springs."

Chinese Not Overjoyed at Washington Results

BY EDNA LEE BOOKER
Written for International News Service
SHANGHAI—The Chinese are not overjoyed at the accomplishments of the Washington conference relative to Far Eastern affairs, though thankful for what was done to lessen the pressure of the Japanese heel on the neck of their prostrate land.

The year 1921 was a gloomy one for patriotic Chinese statesmen, they admit. Torn by civil dissension, the Washington conference in the fall of 1921 seemed the star of hope for solution of Chinese problems and ridding the land of foreign interference.
The conference has ended, but there is still civil dissension, two governments—one at Peking and one at Canton—and China still is not able to regulate all her own internal affairs without the o. k. of leading foreign nations.

Comment in the street is that the Chinese delegates at the Washington conference did not come within a thousand miles of discussing the real Chinese questions. And Chinese students, members of labor unions, educational associations and chambers of commerce declare that in the great test of friendship the Washington conference—failed.

Because of this feeling an antiforeign movement is sweeping all China. A national citizens' association has been formed to deal with diplomatic affairs.
While the Chinese are enthusiastic over prospects of soon ousting foreign operated postal systems—chiefly Japanese—the Chinese are clearly outspoken in their desire and aim to get rid of international settlements, extraterritoriality, restriction on her customs tariff and foreign shipping on her rivers.

Most foreigners in China assert that while China's government remains in its present divided and chaotic condition foreign nations will not jeopardize their interests and the Dispatches telling of the demonstrations of the Chinese residents in Washington in connection with the Shantung question fanned the enthusiasm of the Chinese, and larger and more important mass meetings and parades were held throughout China.

Then the powerful war lord, Chang Tso-ling decided to deal the cards and made a surprise trip to Peking.
In his first deal he threw out the old cabinet, which was very unpopular, and put in a new cabinet, with Liang Shih-yi at the head, and it was reported that Liang Shih-yi was acceptable to South China and that the star of peace was rising.

But Dr. Sun Yet-Sen at once denounced the reports of a pact with the new Premier or any other Peking leaders, declaring them to be "entire fabrications"; and General Wu Pei-fu, leader of still another faction in China, failed to dispatch a congratulatory message to Liang Shih-yi, and rumors of his preparations to move his troops against Peking were circulated.

could control the small, but nevertheless powerful and noisy organization termed the "die hards" that has offended the premier so frequently within the past month. This break in the unionist ranks was started, it is understood, by the section which opposed Lloyd George's Irish policy. Since then the "die hards" have had their strength augmented by others who hold various grievances against the premier.

C. Bellows, former commissioner of corporations, is an officer. It is understood the housing corporation had maintained that because of the nature of its business it did not come under the state "blue sky" law.

Interesting Array of News
Crimes' Causes Neglected
Business Conditions Better
Bidding Eats Up Profit

By Gil A. Cowan

WONDERFUL what an interesting array of news is presented the public every day. In St. Louis yesterday a dense cloud of smoke made it possible for local astronomers to see the sun spots. We'll wager the wash women saw the spot spots, too.

Red tape is cut by the federal prohibition commissioner in Colorado so that whisky bottles are uncorked for influenza sufferers. Here they prescribe a hot water bottle, or its equivalent.

President Harding is not in favor of going to the extreme in the matter of disarmament and refuses to countenance the cutting of army and navy appropriations severely. Surely sounds sensible.

However, he is setting a new record for pardons, having averaged one a day. For the most part, these acts of clemency have been carried out quietly and without publicity.

A Chicago murderer was hanged in what is termed a self-imposed hypnotic state of catalepsy. He did not realize the fate which overcame him. A post mortem examination may reveal the mental state which was responsible for his condition.

And when you sit down in the easy chair and contemplate all of these things that you read in the newspapers, it is to wonder how little the world knows.

Some men spend their lives in studying the sun. Others occupy their time with the enforcement of the law. Few look into its results and fewer still consider the cause of crime.

Nearly a dozen murders in southern California in the last month should stir the authorities of Los Angeles county to action in averting the killing of innocents.

Life is priceless—sufficient reason for research relative to criminal causes. Police Chief James W. Everington is to be complimented on having organized a homicide squad in the Los Angeles police department. But further effort on the part of the body politic could be directed toward minimizing the evils leading up to suicide, homicide, and the other sides of the question.

Glendale is singularly free from the bloodthirsty element. Only one or two murders are recorded in the city's history. Perhaps, it is the spirit of content, the happy souls who hibernate here, that provides sufficient security.

Peacefulness seems to pervade this sheltered vale from sundown to sunrise and during the daytime people are too busy looking at the sun and selling and enjoying life in general to even think about such subjects as commented upon.

Now let us talk about something else! An encouraging report is received from the twelfth federal reserve district board, showing an upward trend in agricultural and business conditions. Real improvement in the employment situation is expected with spring while building activities have reached a record stage.

Let it be known that Glendale expects to establish a new high mark this month in construction.

It is a pleasure to quote from the Southwest Builder and Contractor the following pertinent paragraph: "San Diego's wall for contractors to do its street work, reported in these columns last week, is echoed by Glendale, whose big improvement program is not attracting the desired number of bidders. One piece of culvert and pavement reconstruction work at San Fernando Road and Brand boulevard, already advertised for bids two or three times without attracting a single proposal, is being made the basis for the board of trustees' contemplated decision not to put out any more 'juicy' contracts until the contractors agree to take this rather undesirable piece of work off their hands. The city cannot undertake the work itself for it would require from $3000 to $5000 to finance it and the city has no way of providing either the working fund needed or handling the assessments until paid, the work being undertaken under the 1911 Act."

It is a fair-minded man's conclusion that there is something else wrong in this instance. Bidding, at its best, is bad business. Think of three to ten different firms paying experts to go out of their way to wheedle the cost of a contract such as offered. All the possible profit is eaten by the overhead.

A day of enlightenment is not far distant, it is to be hoped.

Young Folks Will Have Model Leader In Woman Pastor Ordained in New York

BY MARGERY REX

Written for International News Service
NEW YORK, March 3.—Young people often find sermons hard to swallow because of the preacher's personality, and the advice therein still harder to follow, since the person in the pulpit is everything the listener doesn't want to be.

That obstacle between youth and the better life will be removed when such a pleasant young woman as the Rev. Helene Ulrich presides over the junior members of the Church of the Divine Paternity, Central Park West and Seventy-sixth street. Miss Ulrich, assistant pastor of the congregation, will be ordained today.

New York's woman minister is no feminine fanatic, but a good-natured person, with a liberal endowment of sanity. She refuses to become enraged at her fellow beings because they have faults, which is the basis of her remarks about the state-church bouts fought lately between members of each class.

Can't Blame Any Calling
"Imperfect human nature is the trouble," she says, "not certain professions at whose doors we can place all the blame for wrong."

"If some members of a profession or a calling go wrong it is foolish to condemn the entire group. Moving pictures and their people can do wonderful things, but they are made up of imperfect human beings, just like every other business, including the ministry."

"As far as vicious theatrical performances are concerned, we know that managers will give people what they want. Then they want still more of the same thing. It moves in a circle."

"The more people see of what is not good to see the more of that they will want to look upon. If people see plays that tend to be spicy they will demand something spicier."

No holier-than-thou aroma emanates from this sturdy-minded young woman divine, who can speak of sinner and publican without a sniff of superiority.

"Vamping Damsels of Today"
We called her attention to a news-item which states that some mothers are called upon by their young sons to protect them from the vamping damsels of our day.

Million Lives Saved In Near East, Claim

"The Near East Relief for five years has done its life-saving work in a war-ravaged land," declared F. L. Sims of Pasadena, executive secretary for the Glendale district, recently. "One million human beings at least are living today who otherwise would have perished. In this benevolent work some $60,000,000 have been used in the form of money, clothing, supplies, shelter, food, medicines and supervision."

"Continued warfare in Asia Minor has recently resulted in renewed atrocities, created additional hordes of refugees and added thousands more to our 120,000 dependent children faster than their needs can be given. Our present task is merely that of bringing the salient facts of this situation to the attention of the charitable people of our respective communities and to provide the facilities and channels through which their life-saving gifts may flow to the desolated people of the Near East. The response of philanthropic America to the appeal of the homeless, the sick and the starving in war-torn lands has never failed nor will it fail in the coming year."

The height of a horse is spoken of as so many "hands"—a hand measuring four inches.

"I know in smaller towns," Miss Ulrich explained, "that older girls for whom there are no older men admirers will 'take up' with high school boys. They do this in lots of places, and the results are not good."

"If only we could make young women stop wanting to rob the cradle! That's such a terrible thing to do. A girl can be such a fine influence over young men, and it seems a pity when she isn't."

Her own vocation will not necessitate her eschewing marriage, Miss Ulrich admits in answer to the question and gives her views on that much-discussed state:

"I may marry, certainly, if I wish, since ministry is my profession just as teaching was formerly. Of course, we that married life is the only proper existence. It is the basis on which society exists. People are happier when married. But it is better to remain single than choose the wrong person."

"W. L. George's assertion that any marriage is better than none is ridiculous—that's what makes all the trouble today. 'Any marriage at all,' girls have nothing else to do or nothing they care to do, so they marry. Too many are not satisfied with their homes. People generally are getting too liberal."

"Rich Girls in Danger"
"Rich girls are in danger; they never know whether they are being married for love or not," she said in reply to a question on her views of the sixteen-year-old Mathilde McCormick-fifty-seven-year-old Oser marriage. "With every privilege such as wealth there comes accompanying responsibility."

"Still we choose for ourselves today, and only begin to count."

"It's really too bad that the picture of a girl like that must appear in the papers when such things are announced. That makes her feel terribly important."

"Contact with others is what I like best of all. I enjoyed it when I taught children in school, yet I felt I had too little influence over them when I couldn't reach their parents."

"When I considered becoming a church worker people urged me to enter the ministry. I didn't go in for preaching especially, but after giving talks to people it came about naturally."

The New Jersey folks will meet at the Angelus Hotel hall at Spring and Fourth streets, Los Angeles. There will be a program and dancing.

The Nebraska state society will meet in the Friday Morning Club house at 940 South Figueroa street with a program and dancing.

The Wisconsin contingent will rally in Forum hall, 203 Mercantile Place, and enjoy entertainment, followed by dancing.

On Tuesday night the West Virginians will gather in the Angelus Hotel hall, at which time the president, J. B. Alexander, will offer a musical program.

Police Head Sings Paeon to New York

NEW YORK—Richard E. Enright, hitherto supposed to be merely a Police Commissioner, today revealed himself as the poet of the nation's greatest metropolis.

Of New York he sings, in such glowing terms as these:

"This is the richest, proudest city in the world."

"For the first time since man has kept a record of things there is a city that follows the Divine plan—New York."

"We are working out the great problem of the brotherhood of man as it has never been worked out before."

"The city might well bear on its escutcheon, 'I serve.'"

"New York is the cleanest and safest city that ever stood beneath the sun."

"Proudly we stand before the world!"

Nations which adopt to any great extent the staple diets of another nation, begin gradually to adopt the racial characteristics of that nation.

Exposure Ends Jobs Of Bucketshop Touts

NEW YORK—The silent ballyhoo men of Wall Street's bucket shops have mysteriously disappeared.

For months these men, suave, well-dressed and of good manners, have haunted the lobbies of some of the most important hotels, meeting men from out of town, who were persuaded that "now's the time" to take a flyer in Wall Street.

In various ways the ballyhoos ascertained the financial ratings of visitors and other information that led to the establishment of a firm acquaintance. From that point it was easy to lead them into bucket shops operating in "the Street."

Then the fleeing began and continued to such an extent that within the past two months alone $25,000,000 was taken from the unwary.

Three detective squads that made the rounds recently said that the newspaper exposures had driven every silent ballyhoo away.

Conference President Is Title Given to Harding for Way of Running His Position; First Year in Office Generally Discussed

President Harding.

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
Written for International News Service
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4.—If Warren G. Harding should step out of the presidency today at the end of his first year in the White House he undoubtedly would go down in history as "The Conference President."

Conferences—international, agricultural, industrial and legislative—have been the outstanding features of the first year of President Harding's term. There have been few weeks in Washington since March 4 of some sort actually in session or in the making. In the background of them all stood the figure of the president.

President Harding once described himself as a "devout disciple of the conference idea" in the settlement of controversies or disputes—whether they be international, national, municipal or domestic.

Once during the campaign Mr. Harding was speaking to a group of confidants about his chances for election and the prospects of four years in the White House. The passage of time has removed the mantle of confidence that was thrown about what he said that day.

"Don't Kid" Myself

"You know," he remarked, thoughtfully, "I don't kid myself that I elected I will make the best president we ever had. But I pride myself that there is one thing I do as well if not better than most men—I have the faculty of bringing men together; I can reconcile minds that are widely divergent, minds that are perhaps better than my own. And it seems to me that is what we need today—somebody who can bring men together instead of keeping them apart."

That was in October, 1920. How faithfully President Harding has pursued the "conference idea" in his first year as Chief Executive may be seen in the fact that there have been more conferences in Washington since March 4 last than in any other single year in recent history.

At the top of the list, of course, stands the International Armament Conference, which for three months met in a steady succession of daily meetings and at the end produced a dozen treaties and agreements which their proponents claim will firmly establish the peace of the world for the next quarter of a century at least.

But not only in international affairs has the president pursued the conference idea. In two national "crises" in the past year he has summoned to Washington leading figures in the nation's financial and industrial life to try to work out programmes of betterment. These were the "unemployment crisis" and the more recent "agricultural crisis," which is still with us.

Difference of Opinion

Opinions differ radically as to the benefits derived from these two meetings of "best minds," but in any event they both adopted programmes of betterment and adjourned without engaging in any fist fights or damning the government more than usual.

In his contact with congress and in attempting to keep a guiding hand on the course of legislation the president's pursuit of the "conference idea" has been even more pronounced. A score of times in the past year the party chieftains and the leaders in congress have gathered about the hospitable Harding dinner table in the White House to discuss affairs of state over a good meal. Sometimes Democrats have been included although for the most part the invitation lists have been confined to members of the President's own party.

Are things in a snarl at the capitol? Is the party success being endangered by the stiff opposition of a minority in some committee? Is this group or that group kicking over the party traces?

"Invite 'em down to dinner, and we'll talk it over and see what can be done about it."

The first legislative conference, called a few weeks after the Hardings took up their residence in Pennsylvania avenue, created somewhat of a stir in Washington. Perhaps there was a precedent for it, but if so it was so old that everyone had forgotten it, and reporters flocked to the executive offices in droves that night, staying on duty till long past midnight. At the end the President himself came, bareheaded, to the big, broad portico and informed the newspaper men what had been discussed and accomplished.

Since that first conference of the legislative heads of the Government almost a year ago there has been a steady succession of such meetings. Some of them have accomplished much; some of them little, but they continue regardless.

Washington was surprised and interested when they started. The White House had been virtually closed for three years—the Wilsons had few dinner guests and did little entertaining except for intimate personal friends. Now the capital has become used to seeing white-shirted members of the two Houses stroll up to the White House for dinner and a chat. It has been one of the greatest steps in the process of "getting back to normalcy."

Department Heads Confer

Then there was the inter-departmental conference, in which all the departmental heads and bureau chiefs in Washington took part. It was inaugurated by President Harding and lashed into vitality by the picturesque profanity of "Hell in Maria" Dawes, Director of the Budget. It still meets at stated intervals to listen to the explosive advice of General Dawes on matters of economy and co-operation.

The bureau chiefs had seldom met each other before the initial conference. For years they had pursued their individual ways, each bent on getting all he could for his own bureau in the way of money, personnel and supplies. If a bureau needed a thousand brooms the purchasing agent went out and bought them, regardless of the fact that some other department might have ten thousand surplus brooms.

The conference idea, vigorously promulgated by the volcanic Dawes, changed that. They now get together once in a while to talk over their mutual problems.

Outstanding Feature

The outstanding feature of President Harding's first year, from an international standpoint, has been, of course, the Armament Conference. Seven treaties and twelve resolutions grew out of that epoch-making event, and in them is incorporated nearly all the Administration's foreign policy that has thus far been disclosed.

These treaties adjust many of the international questions left pending when the Democrats retired a year ago. The far-famed Yap dispute is settled, likewise Shantung. The nations of the world have repudiated their adherence to the Open Door in the Far East, and they have likewise pledged themselves to act as "moral trustees" for the interests of prostrate Russia. The United States has secured rights in mandated territories denied by the League of Nations; the navies of the world have been cut in half, and the expensive business of building fifty-million-dollar battleships has been stopped.

Next in importance internationally is the conclusion of peace with Germany through the agency of a separate treaty.

Opinions vary as to the outstanding achievement from the domestic standpoint, but probably the consensus of opinion would point to the establishment of a Budget System. The first budget has been launched.

Domestic Legislation

In matters of domestic legislation not a great deal has been accomplished. Permanent taxation and tariff measures are yet to be written—much less passed. The most important of the measures that have gone through the legislative hopper at the capitol are those designed to relieve the acute distress of the farmers.

It is against the domestic record of the administration that the Democrats are going to centre their heaviest fire during the coming Congressional campaign. The Democrats will charge that the Republicans have not reduced taxation nor effected the economies they claim to have effected, and that if any savings are shown they can be ascribed to the natural reaction from war days rather than to Republican economies.

The campaign promises to be a repetition of that old familiar sight—the Republicans "pointing with pride" and the Democrats "viewing with alarm."

President Harding rounds out his first year with the original cabinet intact, although the resignation of Will H. Hays as Postmaster-General becomes effective today. It is regarded as likely, however, that another year will see several cabinet changes.

In the matter of patronage much progress has been made. Republicans are now sitting in most of the appointive offices which a year ago were occupied by Democrats.

The entire diplomatic corps has been shaken up, and there are few holdovers either at home or abroad.

PROPOSAL MEETS DEFEAT

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4.—The initial drive of Republican senate leaders to place all government expenditures under sole control of the powerful senate appropriations committee, has failed. A resolution providing this change in senate rules was "on the table" after its champion, Senator Curtis, Republican, who recalled it from debate. The proposal aroused a storm of opposition from members of both sides of the house who termed it an "invasion of the rights" of other committees. Under existing rules, appropriations now originate in the senate committee having jurisdiction over the subject matter.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS DINE

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4.—Preliminary ground work for the Democratic campaign of 1922 and possibly 1924, was broken here at a dinner attended by a score of democratic leaders, it became known today.

The dinner was given by Joseph Tumulty, former secretary to Woodrow Wilson, and was in honor of James M. Cox, the democratic candidate for the presidency in 1920. The guests included representatives of all the party factions.

Visions of home and happiness

Home Building creates confidence, inspires activity and makes prosperity.

That is why every one should convert their savings and surplus money into savings accounts, building and loan shares, mortgages, etc. These home-building channels are the back-bone of any community. Money made available for home building finds its way back into every line of business. It gives employment to many who in turn buy with their earnings the things that you have for sale. Every progressive business and professional man and individual should give careful consideration to these thoughts, and you, as one of the units of our city, can do your share in stimulating prosperity by helping to finance home building.

One of a few men cannot successfully cope with this big problem; it takes complete co-operation to achieve worth-while results.

Co-operation means to join forces, every citizen working hand-in-hand, shoulder-to-shoulder, doing their share in helping to promote progress, stimulate confidence and create prosperity.

Co-operation is the real secret of community development,

—and whenever you find the business men and individuals of a city in complete accord, with minds and efforts concentrated in one working unit for the up-building of their city, you will find what progressive cities are termed today—"WHITE SPOTS."

With every effort co-operating for community success, we will be able to finance the home building that is so badly needed here in our city, and, in promoting building activities, we will be making individual success; the money we invest in home building stays right here in our city and comes back to each one of us in exchange for our merchandise or increases in our holdings.

We are counting on you to co-operate and help in this worthy movement. Remember, if we all do our share by investing our savings and surplus money in helping to promote home building, we will have fulfilled a mission that will reflect prosperity to all.

Build an ideal home of your own; create an atmosphere of attractiveness around your present home; after this lend your financial support in helping someone else acquire a home. Mortgage loans are the safest and surest of investments, and, in addition to the security, you will be helping in a movement that will mark you a real benefactor—a citizen with the highest moral code of ideals.

RIVAL LEADERS REVIEW PRESIDENT HARDING'S FIRST YEAR IN OFFICE AND BRIEFLY STATE THEIR OPINIONS

Senators Watson and Harrison Give Views of What, or What Not, Has Been Accomplished by Administration; Both Sides of Situation Are Outlined

Note:—The Harding administration is one year old today. The chief attacker and the chief defender of administration policies in the United States senate have written for the International News Service a review of the year, from their respective party standpoints. The two views are presented below.—The Editor.

THE REPUBLICAN VIEW

By SENATOR JAMES E. WATSON (R.), United States Senator from Indiana. (Written Expressly for International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Americans may well be proud of the achievements recorded in one year by the Harding Administration.

Senator J. E. Watson

The Republican party was confronted with Herculean tasks when it came into control of the Government March 4, 1921. The Administration's success in carrying out its platform can be measured only by the magnitude of the obstacles it overcame in its attempt to achieve normalcy.

An era of public expenditures on a scale staggering imagination prevailed in the Wilson Administration. Public service was habituated to extravagant measures. The country was burdened under a national debt, the interest alone of which was greater than the total public debt prior to the World War.

The disarmament conference, called by the Harding Administration, has been an extraordinary success. It has dealt with questions of the most difficult character and on all of them has reached agreements that will have most beneficial results. This conference was the greatest single step taken to eliminate war in the history of mankind.

"Success Due to Genius."

Its success is due to the genius and inspiration of those who directed the policy of the United States. It is a tribute to the leadership of President Harding and to the able men he selected to represent the United States in the conference.

The Harding Administration one year ago today was confronted not merely with the necessity of removing officials long trained in extravagance, but of attempting to cure an extravagant plague that permeated every Federal bureau and department. There was a huge army of unemployed. Industry was paralyzed.

These conditions were inherited from the Wilson Administration. They are not corrected yet, but in one year of effort the Harding Administration has done much not only to cure the country's financial ailment but to prevent a recurrence of the devastating disease.

From a constructive standpoint the Administration has ended the technical state of war with Germany. This act was essential to the prosperity of the nation and was a long step toward bringing a return to normalcy.

"Budget Act Next Passed"

The Budget act was next passed by a Republican Congress. This measure already has proven a success. Its adoption had a healthy effect on curbing extravagance in public office.

The Farmers' Emergency Tariff act was also passed to provide the first necessary relief for overburdened agriculture. The Capper-Volstead Co-operative Marketing bill was passed only last month to give agriculture further relief. Other bills were enacted to help the farmer.

The soldiers were not forgotten, even though a bonus was impossible under existing financial conditions. The Veterans' Bureau was formed, consolidating all Government agencies for the relief of soldiers. Right now Congress is enacting new appropriations for carrying on the important work.

The Maternity bill, one of the planks in the Republican platform a year ago, was enacted by the Republican Congress. It was an Administration bill and provided for the care of mothers and babies.

"Packers' Bill Ended Controversy" The Packers' bill, regulating commerce in livestock and dairy products, also passed. It ended a long and violent controversy over abuses complained of by farm producers.

For the shipping interests the Republican Senate passed an act permitting American vessels to pass through the Panama Canal free of tolls.

These are but a few of the most important bills. There were numerous measures of a constructive nature which have given benefits on every side. No one year of party administration in history has been so fully pointed to as having enacted more constructive legislation than the first year of Harding rule.

Co-operative Marketing Old Dobbin Sells for Fifty Cents in South

By WARREN W. WHEATON

Written for International News Service

WASHINGTON.—If congress sanctions a pending measure giving farmers of the country the legal right to act collectively in marketing their crops and stimulating buying demands at higher than present prices, the farmer will again be on the road to making his business pay.

Not a farmer that attended the recent National Agricultural conference here but favored co-operative marketing as one of the best means of stabilizing his industry.

Once fought in legislative halls as a violation of anti-trust statutes, co-operation is now looked upon more favorably by lawmakers, and the recommendation of the farmers of the nation that they be given the right to run their business along these lines may bear fruit soon.

A definition of co-operative marketing was obtained from G. Harold Powell of Los Angeles, Calif., general manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange. It follows:

"Co-operation among farmers is an enterprise in which the members form an agency through which they conduct the business for their greatest mutual advantage. To be co-operative it must be composed of farmers exclusively, and managed by them and the benefits must be returned to them in proportion to the use or the patronage of each. That part of the capital necessary to create the agency and its facilities, which finds an expression in the management of the association through the voting of its members, should preferably be contributed by them in proportion to the use which each makes of the organization. Capital in a co-operative organization must not be a fund on which a dividend is paid in excess of a fair rate of interest for its use.

"A co-operative marketing association must be able to transact, legally, the business for which it is formed, to finance its activities and secure its obligations."

THE DEMOCRATIC VIEW

By SENATOR PAT HARRISON (D.), United States Senator from Mississippi. (Written Expressly for International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, March 4.—A trail of broken promises, misrepresentation, apologies and an absolute failure to reduce the high cost of living mark the first year of Republican administration of the Government.

The only achievement the Republican party can possibly claim was the passage of legislation at the instance of the so-called agriculture group—a group made up of Democratic and Republican and Progressive Republican Senators.

The amendment to the War Finance Corporation act, granting credits to farmers and relieving banks holding agriculture paper, would never have passed had not the agriculture group been insistent in its demand that the measure be passed.

"Bitterly Opposed by President" This legislation when first suggested was bitterly opposed by President Harding and Administration forces in the Senate and only accepted when the agriculture group, backed by the militant Democratic minority, forced it through the Senate. This legislation is the single achievement of the present Administration.

Those who now claim credit for the results of the disarmament conference as an Administration achievement seem not to realize that the conference was held not because of President Harding but in spite of him.

The idea first was suggested in concrete form in Article 8 of the League of Nations covenant. Senator Borah, a Progressive Republican, introduced a resolution in the Senate that was championed by the united minority in Congress, calling for such a conference. It was opposed at first by President Harding and the Republican leadership in both House and Senate. It was killed twice in committee and only allowed to be passed when some progressive colleagues of Borah and the militant Democratic minority aroused such a storm of public opinion that the calling of the conference could not be denied any longer.

"Must Answer for Whitewash" This one year of Republican control in Congress must answer to the country for the "whitewash" of Senator Newberry, of Michigan. The Republican record of this purchase of public office will never be overlooked by the people of America.

Not one single thing has been accomplished by the Administration to reduce prices and the cost of living. A little while ago soldiers were being auctioned on the block in Boston—mind you—while the President was publicly proclaiming that living conditions were improving under Republican rule. Nothing has been done to alleviate the condition of 6,000,000 men out of work.

The Republican Administration claims credit for reducing army and navy expenditures, but a mere scanning of the Congressional Record shows that every single reduction was forced upon the power in command by a combination of Progressive Republicans and the united Democratic minority. The reactionary leadership of the Republican party opposed every single reduction.

"No Revision of Tariff" There has been no revision of the tariff—one of the loudly boasted promises of the Republican party. One full year of administration and two years of control in Congress has resulted in absolutely no relief.

Just recently the agriculture group, with the Democratic side voting practically unanimous, forced through the Co-operative Marketing bill to relieve farmers this year. The Republican reactionaries swung aboard this bill because they knew it would pass without their votes and they sought solely to save their faces before the bar of American public opinion. It was never an Administration measure and in committee hearings was fought viciously by reactionary Administration leaders.

Not one single bill has been passed of a helpful nature which did not have the original support of the Progressive Republicans and the Democratic minority. On the whole the legislation most necessary to the welfare of the country was either held up or killed in committee by the Republican leadership or passed at the insistence of the Democratic minority.

The outstanding achievement of the one year of Republican administration seems to have been the naming of a dog—"Laddie Boy."

PARIS—How a young woman fought for an hour with a number of armed convicts and prevented them from breaking out of jail at Ajaccio, the capital of Corsica, was told here recently.

The convicts had escaped from their cells by knocking down and seriously injuring two guards who were bringing the evening meal. Under the leadership of a convicted murderer named Fogacci, they bound the other guards and locked them in the guard room. Then they rushed into the warden's office, through which they had to pass to get to the main gates of the prison.

The warden was wounded by the convicts, but his wife, Colomba Ruggieri, a dark-haired woman full of that courage for which Corsican women are far-famed, seized her husband's revolver and rushed out to meet the convicts. The latter were armed with rifles, taken from the guards, and with huge steel bars which they found lying around. Mme. Ruggieri was the first to fire, hitting the leader, Fogacci. She then profited by the confusion to shut the door of the office and barricade it.

A second attempt was made by the convicts to escape, but by that time Mme. Ruggieri was reinforced by gendarmes whom she had summoned over the telephone. Two of the gendarmes were wounded before the mutiny was quelled.

PARTY MEN IN HOT CLASH

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Republican and Democratic congressmen clashed in the house over the government's diplomatic representation in foreign countries.

Representative Fess, Republican, of Ohio, said that the administration of diplomatic relations by Secretary of State Hughes had been the most outstanding success in the history," but Representative Garner, Democrat, of Texas, disagreed.

Garner said that Fess was "offering an apology for what the Harding administration had done in the past year," and declared that this government's diplomatic representatives were the "poorest in fifty years."

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4.—President Harding has asked congress to appropriate $2,110,000 to cover deficiencies in the postoffice department. Previous appropriations, he said, will not cover all expenses of the department during the coming year. The principal item on the supplemental list was $1,000,000 for new mail bags.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4.—The maritime strike on the Chinese coast is spreading to many ports, said a Central News dispatch from Shanghai. A number of vessels are detained because of the walkout of their seamen. The American steamship Empire State was unable to sail from Shanghai because the entire crew struck.

LONDON, March 4.—Fatal disorders were reported from Cairo in the wake of optimistic news that an Egyptian cabinet had been formed as the first phase of the movement to make Egypt an independent state. According to an exchange telegraph dispatch, three persons were killed and twenty-four wounded, including four policemen. British troops restored order.

NEW YORK, March 4.—Advance information telegraphed from Havana indicated that Himly's forthcoming estimate of the 1922-23 sugar crop in Cuba will place the yield at 3,600,000 tons.

Nearing Their Diamond Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Murray of Madisonville, Ohio, who have just celebrated their seventy-first wedding anniversary, and expect to live to celebrate their seventy-fifth. The romance began when Mr. Murray, as a boy of 16, first saw Sarah Baker, 15. It was love at first sight and they were married shortly after.

With the Oakland club already in the midst of its preliminary training, and the other clubs getting ready to move into their appointed quarters,
the 1922 season of the Pacific coast baseball league may be said to be on the way.

The San Francisco club, when it has its full squad of players mustered at Boyes Springs, will have the biggest bunch of prospects ever gathered together from which to make its selections. There will be 35 men in all, few major league clubs ever approaching this number.

The Seal pitchers and catchers will be the first to get to Boyes Springs. They have been ordered to report there on February 27. There will be fifteen pitchers and four catchers.

Of the pitchers, there are six youngsters who are mere novices, but they have attracted the eye of the powers that be on the San Francisco team. Whether or not any of them will survive the preliminary training season, let alone the official playing season, is something that even the usually optimistic G. Alfred Putnam, secretary of the organization, is unwilling to predict.

While the Oakland squad got the jump on the others as far as getting into training quarters is concerned, as a matter of fact they actually will have achieved little or nothing by the move for the reason that the weather has been so inclement. What practice they have been able to get in practically is nil.

The Salt Lakers are slated to begin to put on their harness March 2 and among those who will get into the trappings it is expected will be Thurston, Gould, Elmer Reiger,
Bromley, Owens, Kallio, Bleasner,
Stroud and Trofts, pitchers; Jenkins, Byler, Edwards, Kaney and Lynn,
catchers; Siglin, Vitt, Sand and Es-mond, infielders; Wilhoit, Strand and Duffy Lewis, outfielders. Naturally there will be some others, and as the season progresses, all the camps are likely to see sudden changes in the personnel of the various rosters.

The first intercollegiate girls' rifle match ever held on the Pacific coast will be held at the University of Washington April 15. The co-eds of the University of Washington are to compete against the girls of the Northwestern university. Each team will be composed of the ten best shots at each college. The match will consist of twenty shots off hand at fifty feet on the indoor range. The five highest scores are to decide the winner.

A number of Pacific coast colleges are taking up rifle shooting as an intercollegiate sport, and during the past few weeks have conducted telegraphic competitions with eastern colleges. The University of Washington team held a shoot with the Boston university as opponents, the result being a tie score, each team scoring 497 out of a possible 500.
Neil Scott and William Medams of Washington both made perfect scores of one hundred each.

Other coast colleges indulging in rifle competitions are the University of California, Stanford university, Oregon Aggies, University of Oregon and Washington State college.

Swimming is showing a general
all-round improvement in the Pacific northwest. Generally better performances are being recorded in all competitive events, and there is a larger number of active competitors than ever before. In Portland, Ore., three important indoor events are scheduled for the near future, as follows: Oregon State championships, Pacific Northwest A. A. U. championships and a dual meet Multnomah athletic club versus University of Oregon.

That swimming is advancing in this district is clearly shown by the fact that the University of Oregon, Oregon Agricultural college and the University of Washington all have swimming teams this year for the first time in their history. Each of these colleges will enter teams in the first coast college championship of the Pacific Coast conference which is to be held at Stanford in April.

PEARL NECKLACE INVOLVED

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4.—Filing of a claim against the estate of John D. Spreckels, Jr., by Tiffany & Co., for payment for an $80,000 pearl necklace purchased by his former wife, Sydia, revealed that an agreement was drawn up at the time through which Mrs. Spreckels was to surrender custody of their daughter, Geraldine, if she failed to meet payments on the necklace. Spreckels had signed the agreement but his wife had not. The disappearance of the jewels after Mrs. Spreckels had given them to Captain William Barret caused a sensation in London.

RICHEST MAN—ON PAPER

SAN JOSE, March 4.—On paper
Henry B. Stuart is probably the richest man in the world. Twenty-five years ago he loaned George Jones $100 at 10 per cent interest per month compounded. Jones went to Kansas, prospered, returned here recently and went into business. Stuart entered suit for the $100. Jones recalled the loan and confessed judgment. Supreme Judge Welch started to figure the amount, called an accountant, who, after two hours' work, announced Jones owed Stuart $304,840,332,912,685.16. The judgment was duly entered.

Russia Excluded From Reconstruction Scheme

By DAVID M. CHURCH,
Written for International News Service
LONDON, March 4.—Russia will be excluded from the proposed international corporation for the reconstruction of Europe, it was learned this afternoon. Sponsors of the corporation ruled that "any nation which refused to recognize its foreign debts should not be allowed to participate." Soviet Russia so far has repudiated all her foreign debts.

The United States will be invited to join the corporation as soon as it is a "going concern."

The name of the organization is the Central International Corporation.

The nominal capitalization is $10,- 000,000, but provisions have been made whereby the various participating nations may form subsidiary national corporations capitalized at $100,000,000.

Grant Forbes is in Europe as an official observer for the United States and is understood to be making reports to American bankers
upon the various formation steps.
The scheme was proposed by the allied economic experts on the eve of the supreme council meeting at Gannes and put into concrete shape during the Cannes conference. All confidential experts are at present meeting here to work out final details.

IN THEIR LOVE NEST

SHIFNAL, Eng., March 4.—Viscount Lascelles and his bride, the Princess Mary, will bring the first phase of their honeymoon to a close at the end of next week and will return to London, it was learned today.
After a short stay in London, they will leave for Italy, traveling via Paris.

In the isolation of their love nest
at Weston Park, the happy couple are spending their days completely immured from the outside world.
Residents of the village, respecting wishes of the bride and groom, are keeping aloof from the estate. Before leaving, the princess and several Shropshire hunts and the princess will visit the village schools.

CONFERENCE TO BE HELD

SACRAMENTO, March 4.—The international conference between Chile and Peru to settle the Tacarica boundary dispute, probably will be called to meet in Washington between April 15 and April 30, it was learned here.

MISSIONARIES TELL EXPERIENCES IN HONDURAS FIELD

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sweany Here After 18 Months in Service of Adventists

(Continued From Page 1). as long as fifteen or twenty days. And it is a solid downpour, too—not a slight drizzle.

Roads Are Great Need
“The greatest lack of Honduras and Spanish American countries are roads and modern methods of transportation,” stated Mr. Sweany. His wife laughed as she told of the “fast” Honduras Express which passed their residence in LaCiba every day bound for the interior. This is composed of pack mules, sometimes fifteen or more of them in a string. She remarked that the number of things, which they were able to carry, was almost unbelievable. Tegucigalpa, the capital of the country, was not visited by Mr. and Mrs. Sweany. In order to get there from the coast it would have been necessary for them to have traveled by boat, by mule pack and over three different railroads. Each of these railroads uses a different gauged track in order that traveling to the capital may be as difficult as possible. “Revolutions are quite a feature of the country,” explained Mr. Sweany. “In fact, they are perennial.”

Americans Are Active
La Ciba, where Mr. and Mrs. Sweany spent most of their time, is the largest city in the country and has a population of about 10,000. According to Mr. Sweany almost all of the modern innovations in the country have been instigated by the large American fruit companies which secure large cargoes from the interior. The Vicararo Steamship company, which already has installed electric lights, established modern offices and made other improvements, is now fostering a plan to extend the sewer system, pave the streets, demolish the shacks of the native quarter and make LaCiba a modern city. These improvements are expected to increase the tax rate greatly and increase property values.

Real estate already is similar in price to Glendale. Moreover, Glendale is not the only place where it is difficult to rent a house in which to live. Mr. Sweany remarked that most of the homes were built upon stilts in order that cool air might circulate underneath them. The mountains of Central America, which start a few miles back from the coast, are especially beautiful, according to Mr. and Mrs. Sweany, because they are covered from base to summit with dense foliage.

Encouraging Education
Education is at a low stage in Honduras although the present government's favorable attitude toward schools is encouraging the re-establishment of mission and church schools. The few public schools do not teach beyond the fifth grade, although that grade is higher than our fifth grade. Children of well-to-do parents are all sent out of the country for their education and hundreds come to Florida and Louisiana. The Seventh-Day Adventists now maintain an industrial school, Sigüepeque. It also has a number of churches and missions in the country, which has a total population of about 60,000. Most of the English speaking people are negroes from the British West Indies.

Mr. and Mrs. Sweany visited the islands off the coast of Honduras and observed the “Venice of Central America”—a community built entirely upon the ocean a few miles from the land upon a series of small cays. The inhabitants were able to escape mosquitoes and many other disagreeable features of the mainland.

In order to reach these islands, it is necessary to go by sailing vessels. These are very uncertain as they are dependent upon the disposition of the wind. It may take five or six hours to complete the voyage and it may take five or six days. On one “short” trip Mr. and Mrs. Sweany left Friday night for the island of Roatan and did not get there until Sunday morning. However, they were too sea sick to care much.

Sharks Halt Bathing
Bathing is not very popular along the coast on account of the “friendliness” of the man-eating sharks, although Mr. Sweany asserted that they were quite cowardly and would not attack bathers if they were slashing around.

Before leaving for Honduras Mr. and Mrs. Sweany spent twelve years in the West Indies in missionary work on Trinidad and the Bahamas. On account of the progressive British control of these islands, their civilization is far superior to Central America. Mr. Sweany believes the Spanish-American countries are behind the times in everything which makes for progress.

After a few months' furlough in Southern California, Mr. and Mrs. Sweany will attend the conference of the Seventh-Day Adventists in San Francisco and expect to be re-assigned to the foreign field.

Librarian Joins French Trip to Desert Wilds

CHILICOTHE, O.—Burton E. Stevenson, well known novelist and city librarian, has sailed for Constantine, Algeria, where he is to join a special French military expedition, headed by Colonel J. Maurice, his personal friend. The commission is scheduled to visit the interior of the desert country; the principal object and the Auree mountain regions, calling on the tribal chiefs, for the purpose of consolidating their support of their government.

British Armament Is Hit by Reductions

By DAVID M. CHURCH.
Written for International News Service LONDON—With Great Britain in the midst of its worst trade depression the results of the Washington conference for disarmament have come as a blow to British steel and armament manufacturers.

“I welcome the decision of the Washington conference, but I think something should be done to allow our armament firms to retain their plant so as to have it available if it ever be required in the future,” said Arthur Balfour, head of a large Sheffield steel firm, in discussing effects of the disarmament movement.

The decision to scrap naval vessels have caused a certain amount of unemployment, Balfour said, but he accepted this as inevitable and pointed out that the British nation is unable to afford anything which is unproductive, even though it may afford a certain amount of unemployment. It is necessary for Great Britain to reserve her capital for productive purposes, which in the long run will bring more employment than would come from the expenditure of money on the construction of ships, Balfour declared.

British armament workers, though accepting the disarmament measures with good grace, are perplexed as to the new fields of endeavor to which they shall turn. There has been some worry caused among British manufacturers because of the fact that American firms, which were at one time engaged in the manufacture of armament, have turned their plants over to the manufacture of cutlery—a field which has been largely dominated by Great Britain. It is also a source of displeasure to British manufacturers that large war plants in Germany are now turning out cutlery.

British armament firms are engaging in many peace-time experiments, perhaps the most successful of which is that of locomotive construction by Armstrong, Whitworth & Company. Cammell, Laird & Company, former armament manufacturers, are now reported to be progressing in the manufacture of all-steel railroad cars. The biggest variety of peace manufactures has been undertaken by Vickers, Ltd., whose new industries range from all phases of the electrical industry and carriage and wagon building to the making of washing machines and even mechanical toys. The close of the war took many British manufacturers into the sloughs of industrial depression, but now comes the disarmament movement, which threatens an even worse industrial upheaval for manufacturers in steel and armament during the coming months.

Judge Warns Police Always to Be Polite

CHICAGO — “Ah, madame, it grieves me so to ask you to report at headquarters! But the law, it must be enforced; and you, madame, have released too much fuel with that exquisite foot of yours; your motor is traveling at a speed greater than that permitted by the laws of our fair city.”

This may be the way Chicago traffic policemen will address violators of city traffic regulations hereafter. An order has been issued from the court wherein speeders and other violators of traffic laws are reprimanded and fined, instructing the policemen to “lay off the rough stuff” and treat violators “decently.”

“Cursing by officers is a common complaint,” declared Judge John R. Newcomer, who released Sylvester Brennan, who resisted arrest because the police used profane language.

“Arrests should be made decently and those arrested brought into court in a gentlemanly manner always.”

Women to Operate Large Turkey Farm

GRAND ISLAND, Neb.—A turkey ranch, conducted on the lines of big cattle ranches, will be started here next spring by Mrs. G. A. Rumbaugh and Mrs. Roy Burch. These women have made a financial success in the turkey business conducted on a small scale. They now plan to start the 1922 season with a foundation of 800 birds to be ranged over the sandhill country in small flocks.

Herdsmen will be hired to attend each flock and guard against raids by coyotes, wolves and other predatory animals.

PROGRESSIVE PARTY DEAD

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The Progressive party is dead, but not beyond hope of regeneration. So ruled Attorney General Webb in an opinion rendered at the request of Secretary of State Frank Jordan, received here. Webb outlined re-birth procedure for the Progressives as follows:

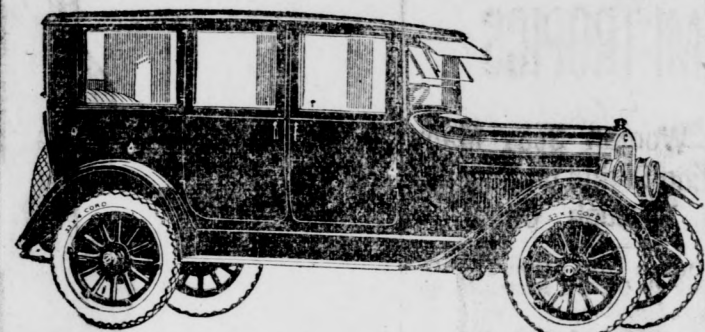

“At the last November election the Progressive party did not have a candidate on the state ticket and it therefore passed out of existence. If any party is to participate in the coming primary election as the Progressive party, it will be necessary for such party to first qualify by petition as provided in the direct primary law. Such petition must be filed before June 15 if the party is to participate in the coming election.”

MODERN NAVAL RESERVE

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4.—Creation of a modern reserve for the United States is provided for in a bill prepared by naval experts and submitted to naval reserve officials for study.

The proposed new organization will consist of a fleet, merchant marine and volunteer naval reserve. Under the bill the old marine corps reserve is abolished and a new body set up along lines similar to the naval reserve.

San Fernando Valley Distributors for the Oakland Motor Cars

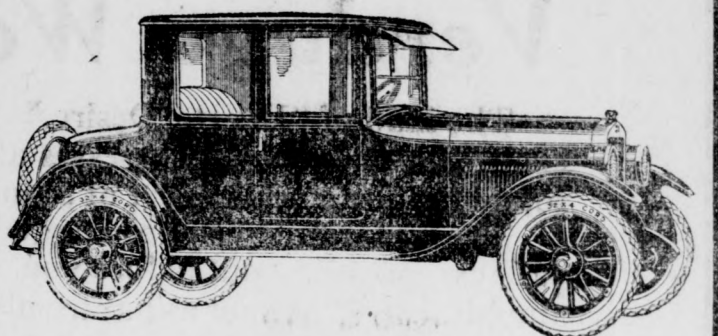

IN THE NEW OAKLAND you will find many improvements—both in chassis construction and body design. These improvements have added much to their attractiveness as well as to the enjoyment and economy of their operation.

The greatest achievement you will find is the improved Oakland Six-Cylinder overhead valve engine. It is a wonderfully smooth running, trouble-free motor possessing the power and flexibility such as only a “Six” can have. Yet it is as economical to operate as most “Fours.”

Many new features have been incorporated in this engine. For example, the cylinder walls are “honed” to a glass-like smoothness and fitted with oil-sealing piston rings of exclusive design. The camshaft and generator are now driven by an adjustable Morse chain which is silent and positive in action. The Marvel carburetor is used with exhaust heat jacket and adjustable hot air stove.

The satisfaction which can be expected from this engine is further emphasized by the 15,000-mile special written guarantee against surplus oil in combustion chambers, which is given to every purchaser.

In this ad you will find a brief description of other features embodied in the New Oakland 6-44 models, but, to really appreciate how much they contribute to the continuous satisfaction of Oakland ownership, you should not only inspect these cars, but arrange with your local dealer for a convincing demonstration.

Oakland Coupe $1935 f. o. b. Glendale

The New Oakland 6-44 Coupe is built along the same attractive lines as the Sedan. The interior is very comfortably arranged—seating four passengers. The driver's seat is placed well forward, allowing plenty of room in the rear seat for two occupants. An auxiliary seat for the fourth person is located beside the driver's seat and folds away under the cowl when not in use. There is a convenient compartment directly back of the driver's seat for small articles and in the rear there is roomy space under the deck for larger packages and luggage.

The Oakland Closed Models

Both the Coupe and Sedan are equipped with the improved Oakland Six-Cylinder overhead valve engine which provides an unusual degree of power and flexibility. They are extremely easy cars for women to operate, as they can be throttled down to two miles an hour, on high gear, thus eliminating a great deal of gear shifting in traffic.

Because of the smoothness of its operation the Oakland engine does away, as well, with the annoying vibration so often experienced in closed cars. Both Oakland Closed Models are finished in black with nickel trimmings.

The side walls and ceiling are trimmed in velour to match the upholstery. There is a dome light in the ceiling and roll-up silk curtains at the rear and side windows. Close to the bottom of the rear seat is a Perfection heater, which has been regular equipment in Oakland Closed Cars for years. The floor is covered with a durable rug and the foot rest is trimmed with the same material.

Oakland Roadster $1340 f. o. b. Glendale

The Oakland Roadster is of two-passenger capacity and of the same general specifications as the Touring. Both these open models are equipped with drum type headlights with mechanical focusing arrangements and a handsome walnut instrument board on which are mounted new silver-faced instruments, each one glass covered and conveniently located under one light. The steering wheel has corrugated walnut rim and aluminum spider.

The equipment also includes the Oakland one-man top, snug fitting curtains, slanting weather-proof windshield, —and just back of the driver's seat is a roomy compartment for parcels and in the rear is a still larger space easily accessible for luggage.

Pay Raised, But Lack of Teachers Is Felt

NEW YORK—Despite the large increase in teachers' salaries there is a pronounced teacher shortage in New York City, according to the report of F. L. Mills, director of the division of appointments and records of the New York City Board of Education.

“We are still behind the figures of 1918 in the number of candidates,” Mr. Mills declared, “and we are considerably behind the figures of ten years ago; for example, the number of candidates for 1911, was 1,951, while for 1921 it was 1,395, despite the big increase of population and the consequent necessity for more teachers.”

Teachers' salaries in New York City now go as high as $3,700, and $500 extra as head of a department in high schools. Teachers say the increased pay is more than offset by higher rents and other living costs.

VOTING AGE IS OPPOSED

DUBLIN, March 4.—The widow of the late Mayor O'Callaghan of Limerick, moved in the Dail Eireann that the voting age of women in Ireland be reduced from 30 to 21 years. The Michael Collins and Arthur Griffith opposed the motion on the ground it would make necessary a new compilation of enfranchised persons and delay the general election.

More Jap Emigrants to South America

TOKIO—Japanese emigrants to the number of 325 sailed from Kobe recently on the Chicago Maru. This is the largest number of Japanese emigrants to leave on one ship for South America since the restoration of peace. Owing to the industrial boom and consequent high wages in Japan during and after the war the Japanese preferred to remain at home.

Because of the combined encouragement of the Brazilian and Japanese governments a number of Japanese are planning to leave for the South American state later, to engage in coffee raising and other agricultural work. Most of the emigrants on the Chicago Maru were from Hiroshima, Nagasaki, Fukuoka and Wakayama.

J. H. SMALL IS CHOSEN

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4.—Former congressman John H. Small of North Carolina, was unanimously re-elected president of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress. S. A. Thompson of Washington, D. C., was unanimously re-elected secretary-treasurer of the organization. The convention adopted a resolution calling upon congress to appropriate the amounts of money recommended by government engineers on unfinished projects.

Two Yanks Find New Brand of Gratitude

NEW YORK — Deported from England because they failed to register under the new Alien Registration act, George Belmont Wilson and Clarence Southland, both of whom served in British forces during the war, arrived here recently, without money and with very few clothes.

“Gratitude? The British government knows no such thing!” chorused the pair. “We enlisted with the British forces at the outbreak of the war. Both of us were wounded. We have just been deported as through we were two criminals!”

Wilson's wife and two children are now destitute in England. While he was in Brixton prison awaiting deportation, they were allowed to see him only once.

PROPOSES HOUSE CHANGES

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4.—Representative John Clarke of New York has introduced a bill in the house to reduce the membership of that body from 435 to 217, and to increase the salaries of congressmen from $7,500 to $12,000 a year. The bill also puts the salary of the speaker at $15,000 a year and provides that members should be fined $100 a day for each day they are absent.

MRS. J. B. McENANY DESCRIBES TRIP IN SEMI-TROPICS

Glendale Woman Sees Many Interesting Sights on Recent Visit Through Canal

to come back to United States to get a good cup of coffee.

Likes Florida Grapefruit

Among other delicacies enjoyed by Mrs. McEnany, were Florida grapefruit. She admitted that these had more flavor than the California variety.

While in Havana, Mrs. McEnany and her brother visited the casino, which is second in luxuriousness only to Monte Carlo.

"The Havana cemetery is the most wonderful I have ever seen," said Mrs. McEnany. "When I was told that I was going to be taken on a tour through a cemetery I was somewhat surprised. Afterwards, I saw why. Every inch of ground is covered with the most beautiful marble slabs and statues. I have never seen any more beautiful except in an art gallery."

Graveyard space in the third class section of this cemetery is rented, according to Mrs. McEnany. When relatives of the deceased cannot pay the rent, the bones are unceremoniously taken out of the crypt and thrown on the bone heap.

Streets Keep Out Sun

"The streets of Havana are narrow to keep out the sun," said Mrs. McEnany. "You can walk blocks under cover on the sidewalks. The porches of the hotels and business houses extend to the edge of the streets and are covered. In some cases it is like an arcade."

The number of automobiles was quite noticeable in Florida according to Mrs. McEnany, who stated that the number of high priced cars was striking. She said bicycles seemed to vie with automobiles as a means of transportation at Palm Beach and even the women ride "bikes" there. The porters also ride wheels while propelling chairs between Palm Beach and West Palm Beach.

"The climate of Florida certainly appeals to one," said Mrs. McEnany, "but, when you think of the limitations of Florida, you think of California. So little of the ground is cultivated; so much of it is everglades and swamps. California is not limited in any line."

Mrs. McEnany liked Miami very much. She declared that the principal industry there seemed to be the sale of real estate. A great many people were bathing during her visit to Florida, the surf being so crowded that it was difficult to walk along the beach.

Among other things noticed on her journey, was the fact that only the bowl of the great dipper was visible. The stars seemed fewer and brighter.

The trip from the east to the west coast of the United States was made by rail.

A journey around the world next year was planned by Mrs. McEnany and her brother.

Native Babies Found to Be Badly Treated

NEW YORK—More children were born here last year to foreign-born mothers than to American mothers, according to an analysis of vital statistics by Health Commissioner Dr. Royal S. Copeland.

The analysis also shows that the death rate for children born of native American mothers was higher than the death rate among children of foreign-born mothers, in spite of the fact that surroundings in the American homes were usually better than in the homes of foreigners. Native babies were found to be neglected.

In 1919 68.7 per cent of the children born here were to foreign-born mothers. Last year's records show about the same proportion.

"The death rate for children under one year of age is 90 per 1,000 among infants of native-born mothers," said Dr. Copeland's analysis, "while the rate of infants of Swedish-born mothers is 58, Scotch 43, Russian 64, French 79, Austro-Hungarian 69, Bohemian 75."

Foreign-born mothers generally nurse their children. This is accounted for the low death rate in congested districts of the city where it might be expected there would be more infant deaths.

"There is another reason for the story told by these figures. American mothers are less inclined to make use of the baby health stations of the department of health and public health education promulgated by the department."

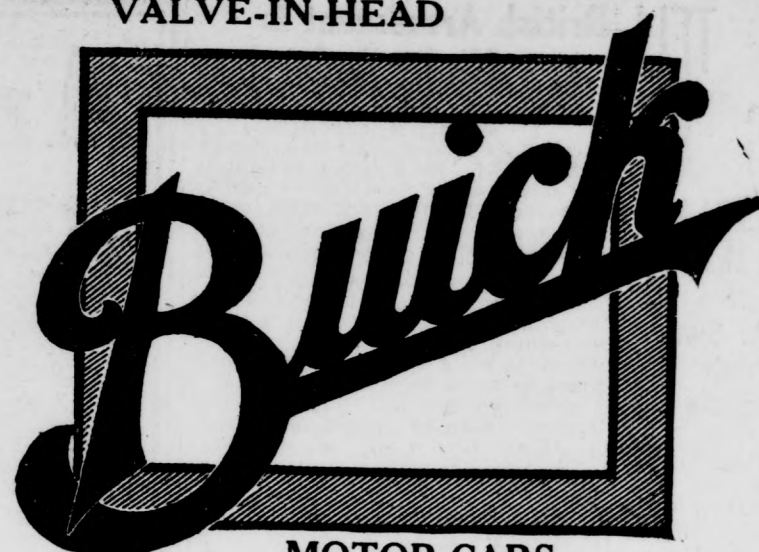

"We have a natural pride in our country and our Americanism, but we leave it to our foreign-born to have the babies. If this state of affairs is continued through a score or more of years our so-called first families, whose lineage goes back to the Mayflower, will dwindle until there will be other and more recent first families."

"In the face of these figures it is time that very serious attention should be given to the subject of birth control."

SHE'S MODERN SOLOMON

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Judge Kathryn Sellers of the District of Columbia juvenile court successfully portrayed the character of a modern Solomon when she awarded a baby, whose motherhood was claimed by two women, to Mrs. Maria A. Mattison. Judge Sellers declared that Mrs. Mattison was the mother of the seven months' old child in dispute, but said the baby was destitute of a suitable home and turned him over to the board of children's guardians.

Lock of Jap's Hair Home, So Soul Rests

SEATTLE—Although the body of Jitsujiro Sano, Japanese sailor, is buried in alien soil, his soul will rest forever in peace in his native land because a lock of his hair is being taken back to Nippon on the Alabama Maru, the vessel on which Sano was accidentally killed while in port at Victoria, B. C.

According to sailors of the Alabama Maru the lock of hair will be buried in Japan and will bring peace to Sano's soul forever.

SAYS MARRIAGE TO RESULT

LONDON, March 4.—"You can take it from me that we will be married," was the emphatic declaration made by Allister McCormick, member of a multi-millionaire Chicago family, whose marriage was recently prevented when the bride-to-be Miss Mary Baker, failed to appear at the Chicago church.

Miss Baker was to have sailed for England on the Aquitania, but failed to do so. Mr. McCormick said the marriage would take place in May.

Ancient Safes Invite Bank Robberies, Claim

By THOMAS WRIGLEY
Written for International News Service
KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Small country banks, with vaults of obsolete construction, have "welcome" written all over them for even the amateur cracksmen. No wonder, then, that an epidemic of small town bank robberies has swept the country, with a loss last year amounting to a staggering sum.

Not reinforced law penalties, but reinforced concrete and modern steel construction are the remedy, according to W. W. Bowman, secretary of the Kansas Bankers' association.

Figures compiled by Secretary Bowman show there were fifty-nine bank robberies in Kansas last year. It was a record year both in the number of attacks and in the amount of the losses," said Bowman, adding that other states had reported similar experiences.

"Severe statutory penalties may deter, they do not prevent crime," said Bowman, pointing out that the maximum penalty for burglary is thirty years, and that of hold-up fifty years in prison.

"No bank can longer presume that a simple brick fireproof vault is any protection at all against even a common amateur burglar. In several cases vaults have been entered by chiseling through the walls. "Vault structures to be in any degree burglar proof are expensive, but it would be a splendid thing if common fireproof vaults were rebuilt and at least ironed and rodged and reinforced."

STORM LOSS IS A MILLION

APPLETON, Wis., March 4.—This storm bound region is still in a seriously crippled condition in spite of the fact that more than 1,000 men in relief crews have been working night and day for over a week. Reports indicate that 8,396 poles on telephone toll lines were broken off by the weight of ice. The loss, it was estimated, would aggregate $1,000,000.

Tenth Street Paving Is Aid to Grand View

The paving of Tenth street will do wonders in opening up the Grandview district according to Carter Mullaly of Kjergaard & Mullaly, 207 West Broadway, who yesterday declared that the five inch concrete highway would be ready for traffic in about two weeks. He called attention to the fact that it would connect Glendale with the heart of Burbank. Glendale Villa has been surprisingly well received, in the opinion of Mr. Mullaly. However, he thinks the securing of half acre residence lots there is the only thing for families which desire to have enough space for chickens and a garden and still have all city conveniences. He stated that the property would be much better in a couple of months on account of improvements being installed.

Kjergaard & Mullaly are planning to put another tract of 32 lots on the market soon just below Glendale Villa.

NEWSPAPER'S STORY SELLS AUTO BY LONG DISTANCE

Printed in Los Angeles, Sent
To Illinois and as Result Studebaker Is Selected

The valuable assistance of the newspapers to the automobile business has long been recognized by automobile dealers, but it is unusual to learn that a story about an automobile which was printed in a California paper sold a car to a man in Rockford, Ill.

Not long ago a Los Angeles paper printed a story about an old car that had traveled 25,000 miles in three years and it was the cause of a Rockford man purchasing one of the same make. The clipping from the newspaper was mailed to the Rockford man by a friend with the advice to buy a Studebaker. The Studebaker dealer had been trying to sell that man a car for weeks, but had made no apparent progress. One day he walked into the dealer's store with the newspaper clipping and asked for a demonstration. The next day he bought a car and it was a Studebaker.

Readers Kept Informed

Nearly every newspaper of any consequence has an automobile page or section during the week in which space is given to describe new cars or tell of creditable performance records. In this way the readers are kept well informed about automobiles. They are able to buy with a more comprehensive idea of what they should be entitled to get in the way of automobile transportation.

The newspapers become through their news and advertising columns a powerful sales force and, according to D. H. Packer of the Packer Auto company, Studebaker dealers for San Fernando Valley, any dealer who hopes for any degree of success cannot afford to ignore the valuable assistance that his local paper can give him. It carries a sales message farther for less money than any medium he can choose.

"Without the newspapers as our allies," said D. H. Packer, "we would not progress very fast in any merchandising endeavor."

Birthday Party Given For Dorothy Dutton

Mrs. Paul A. Brattain (Pearl Keller) entertained last night with a beautiful dancing party in honor of Dorothy Dutton, who was celebrating her fifteenth birthday. The studio was a perfect fairyland with its decorations of pink roses and pink shaded lights. Pink candles were used on the punch table. Favors were lovely pink and white fans for the girls, bells for the boys. Prizes were awarded for the games also. Music was furnished by Jerry Parker's orchestra. The pink and white color scheme was also carried out in the refreshments of ice cream, wafers and candies.

The honoree wore a yellow crepe de chine dress, embroidered with baskets of French flowers, and was the recipient of many beautiful gifts, one of which was a special made box of candy, 36 by 24 inches in size, from a group of twelve of her schoolmates. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dutton, of 113 Laurel avenue and is one of Miss Keller's most promising pupils, with whom she has been for seven years, training to be a teacher in the profession, and is now assisting at the school. She is very talented and Miss Keller predicts a bright future for her. She is in her first year at high school, and when she graduates, Miss Keller plans to send her to finishing school.

The guests were, Carolyn Bly, Glen Hitchcock, Florence Rattray, Doris Howe, Dorothy Danner, Ruth Whittaker, Dorothy Young, Georgia Young, Billy Owens, Florence Melrose, Elizabeth Crosson, Emily Torchia, Merna Kennedy, Shirley Hitchcock, Vivian Nay, Marjorie Hart, Elizabeth Garton, Doris Cook, Cecilia Mae Fischer, Louise Montot, Arlyn Yeakel, Julia Pelley, Evelyn Hunt, Leona Hunt, Elsie Gould, Evelyn Ashman, Dorothy Dutton, George Moore, Billy Justema, Jack Wright, Lionel Martinez, Bob Bradbury, Elmer Muff, Archie Nell, Bill Bradbury, Jerome Andrews, George Melrose, Glenn Roberts, Bill Gillette, Jack Finch, Thomas Kennedy, Jr., Walter Hibbert, Johnnie Lovell, Kenneth Wellens, Richard Ryan, Walter Sullivan, Howard Ralston, Halsey Wetmore, Harry Bennett, Allan Pollock, Allen Nicklen, Mr. and Mrs. M. Dewar, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burson, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Dutton, Mrs. Hapgood, Mrs. Burlingham, Mrs. Stella Spear, Mrs. Cora D. Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fischer, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pelley, Mr. and Mrs. James Lyon, Miss Amy Miller, Mrs. Dora Howe, Mrs. Susie Peck, Mrs. Hattie Tiffany, Miss Gertrude Champlain, Ernest Dutton, Dr. Bert Moore, Charles A. Taylor.

Mr. Taylor, who is a well known dramatist, and motion picture director, had flashlight pictures taken of the happy throng, during the evening, by one of his experienced men, while the merriment was at its height.

SAY PACKERS ARE OBEYING

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4.—The "big five" packers are obeying the law Attorney General Daugherty informed the senate. In reply to a request from the senate, the attorney general declared that the packers' consent decree, in which the United States supreme court ordered the packers to divorce themselves from all unrelated industries, is being carried out "to the letter."

The attorney general rendered a complete report on the case, including the recommendation of the inter-departmental commission for modification of the existing decrees.

1922 OAKLAND HERE AND IS DECLARED 'BEST OF ALL'

Max Green Says New Model
Has Many Improvements
Over Other Models

The first 1922 Oakland touring car was received yesterday by Green & McClellan and is now on display at 116 West Harvard street.

"I have been handling Oakland since 1918," remarked Max Green enthusiastically. "This has any model beaten we have ever had before. It certainly is a real automobile."

The main innovation about the new model, according to Mr. Green, is mechanical improvement. He asserts that the motor is absolutely noiseless on account of the utilization of a Morse chain drive in place of time gears.

"The car rides much easier than older types on account of the longer wheel base," remarked Mr. Green. "One of the features of the mechanism is the fact that each of the rear wheels has an adjustable brake."

Radiator Is Changed
"Remarkable distinction has been achieved in the new Oakland lines. The radiator has been changed giving a much higher and larger appearance to the front. More surface being exposed gives a better circulation of air. The footboard is cooled by a ventilator at the top of a full wide cowl. Drum type headlights give the front an especially snappy appearance."

Mr. Green asserted that the body finish of the sport models to be received later probably would vary in tint from the color of the touring car which is black.

Two Hours Apart, But Crime Total Differs

NEW YORK—Because New York is full of crime and Philadelphia is quiet and peaceful it costs 210 per cent more to operate a baggage delivery truck here than it does in the Quaker City, according to Samuel W. F. Draper, president of the New York Transfer company.

In New York, two hours distant from Philadelphia, every truck must have a chauffeur and a helper, while in Philadelphia "you can leave a wagon on the streets with some security."

English Is Adopted for Universal Talk

LONDON—English has been adopted as the most suitable for universal intercourse by the Northern Pacific Union, composed of peace societies in Sweden, Norway and Denmark.

The Peace Union has now requested the governments of all the countries of Europe to give opinions on the matter.

After that it intends to settle the question by debate in an international congress.

Thief Returns Part of Loot to Victim

DETROIT—Deputy sheriffs are seeking to learn who returned by mail to George Stinson a $1000 diamond ring, part of the loot taken from him when held up by three automobile bandits. Two men under arrest have been identified as two of the bandits, police say, but the third is still sought. Police are working on the theory that the third member of the gang "lost his nerve" and finding the name of his victim in the newspapers decided to return his share of the loot.

BIG ENTERTAINMENT FOR EAGLE ROCK SCOUTS PLANNED

Excellent Program Is Outlined
For March 13; Executive Board to Meet

During the week plans have been laid for a big complimentary Boy Scout entertainment which will be held in the auditorium of the Eagle Rock Central school, Monday night, March 13, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Several of Eagle Rock's civic and fraternal bodies are sponsoring the program which, it is claimed, will be unusually good with local and out of town talent of high class. The entertainment will be free of charge to everybody and, as a great number of people are expected to attend, reserved seat tickets are being given out through the various organizations to insure the members of good seats. Everybody in Eagle Rock is helping to boost the affair and make it a success, it is declared. The committee having the affair in charge is headed by Emil F. Swanson, chairman, and W. L. Miller, Dr. Harry B. Crawford, E. E. Harwood, C. L. Suits and J. C. Caddell.

District Executive Board
The March meeting of the district scout executive board has been set by President Charles L. Chandler for Monday night, March 6, in the offices of Roy L. Kent at 7:45 o'clock. The nature of the meeting will be an open forum and all members of the council are invited to be present. It is thought that several plans for the intensive development of Scouting in the district will be offered to the board for its approval.

Troop Two Adds Members
Several additional members have been taken into Troop 2, Glendale, recently. These are Glendon Busey, Wilbur Booth, Robert Eastman and Richard and Franklin Walcott. Besides the above First Class Scout Floyd Craft has been transferred from Troop 3, Beaumont, Texas, and Scouts Elvin Richards and Claud Streight, both of San Francisco, have been transferred from Troops 100 and 9 respectively, of that city.

New Policy Adopted
Scoutmaster Robert Taylor of Troop 1, Glendale, announces the adoption of a new policy for his troop regarding new members, which was decided at the last meeting of his troop. Heretofore the troop has held exclusively to boys in the high school but now it is planned to organize one or two new patrols taking in boys 12, 13 and 14 years old. It is expected that Scoutmaster Taylor will be besieged by boys from the south part of Glendale when they hear of the change of policy. The troop meets every Tuesday in the old Tropico city hall.

Musical Comedy Revue Heads Bill at T. D. & L.

Tommy LaRose and his musical comedy revue, which headlines one of the best vaudeville bills ever seen in Glendale, is a scream from start to finish, your friends who attended the T. D. & L. last night will tell you. There are seven people in the cast. This show holds over today.

The Appy trio of musicians add eclat to the program and their tuneful melodies are well worth your while to stop, look and listen. The Brown Brothers entertain with eccentricities that score scores while the other acts measure up to standard.

"Get-Rich-Quick-Wallingford," the Cosmopolitan feature from the George Randolph Chester stories, adds to the extraordinary program. It has an especial appeal to the blaze while children and historians today will revel in the presentation of the first installment of a new serial, "With Stanley in Africa."

Manager Ralph Allan says this is a picture for the kiddies and he wants them all to get in at the start and keep up with Stanley. You'll have to travel all over the dark continent if you do. Let's go!

Will Rogers Picture Feature at T. D. & L.

Will Rogers, one of the most prominent actors of the silver screen, has the role of Professor Ezra Botts, the leading part in the new Paramount picture "One Glorious Day" which will be shown at the T. D. & L. theatre Sunday.

The story, which is by Walter Woods and A. B. Baringer, is one of the most unique ever written, while the role of Professor Botts is one of the greatest novelties ever screened. Lila Lee plays opposite Mr. Rogers in the leading feminine role of Molly McIntyre. John Fox plays the mysterious character "Ek," which, it is said, will be in the nature of a complete surprise for screen patrons.

Two Year Guarantee Given With Batteries

"Strength is the first requisite in a shipyard crane or a storage battery," says Herman Psenner of the Psenner-Doll Autoelectric company, Chestnut and Brand, Philadelphia diamond grid battery distributors, which is noted for its two-year guarantee. The guarantee of two years is free from restrictions. Mr. Psenner points out, and it is the same in Tampa as Seattle or Glendale.

FUNERAL CAR IN CRASH

PALMER, Mass., March 4.—Ten persons were injured, six seriously, here in a head-on collision between a funeral car and a regular trolley car. The funeral party was en route from Bondsville to Palmer. Misunderstanding of orders is believed to have been responsible for the accident.

AUTO IS NECESSITY? WELL, READ THIS MAN'S TROUBLES

Dort Owner Locks His Car in Garage and Then His Tribulations Begin

Two Dort owners were talking about cars as a necessity, while calling on E. E. Sawyer at the Sunset Motor Company's agency at 308 East Colorado street recently.

One said he could do without his and get along just as well.

The other laughed and made the wager of a dinner that his friend could not be without his Dort for a week.

The test started Monday morning. Locking the door of his garage after taking the family out on the usual Sunday joyride, he walked to the carline. A Barbant flyer left him standing on the corner. He took the next car which had standing room only, for he lives south of Broadway.

Absolutely Necessary
After being hung to a strap, he started the day wrong at the office, learned that a manufacturer in East Los Angeles wanted to see him and until the Santa Fe and Salt Lake depots were passed.

So it went all week and when his wife had to walk up to the theatre and miss a social evening in Eagle Rock Wednesday night, it broke the camel's back. The Dort was driven to work Thursday morning.

Five Vaudeville Acts On Glendale Program

There will be five big acts on the vaudeville program at the Glendale Theatre today. Leslie and Martin present "Little Miss Melody," a charming musical turn that has been a big success everywhere. It is offered by two exceedingly clever artists. Ernest Rackett is billed as "Singing His Own Songs and Speaking His Own Ideas." The Belldays will contribute "The Lady of the Falls." This is a distinct novelty that has been a complete success.

Happy Jack Boyce styles his offering "Singing and Talking Comedy." He has brand new material and knows how to put it across the footlights in the most effective fashion. The King Brothers are announced with a novelty dancing act that will please.

B-r-r-r-h! The old teeth chatter when one scene of "A Parisian Scandal" comes on the screen. It's a gray drizzly dawn. Two figures stand back to back in a garden spot outside Paris. Two groups watch. It's a duel! When "A Parisian Scandal" brings Marie Prevost, the alluring little ex-bathing beauty star today you'll see a clever bit of comedy with a hard-boiled count, a stiff-backed young American student and a beautiful girl as the leading figures of the plot.

"Everything for Sale" Is Glendale's Picture

The choice of a husband, when several eligible suitors are at hand, is a difficult enough problem for an experienced woman. But for a young girl, fresh from boarding school, and pressed by her family to make a speedy marriage to relieve their financial strain, the choice is indeed perplexing. That is the dramatic situation presented in "Everything for Sale," in which May McAvoy will be seen here Sunday and Monday at the Glendale Theatre.

Mrs. Virginia Freeman, soprano, a Glendale favorite, and Paul Carson, organist, will be heard at the Sunday evening recital. Other film attractions complete a big program.

Child's Neck Broken; Will Recover, Belief

The entire upper part of her body in a plaster cast, baby Barbara Jan Stratford does not seem to be bothered much by the fact that she has a broken neck. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Stratford of 1019 Virginia Place, consider her patience under the circumstances extremely remarkable. Dr. J. E. Eckles of 125 1/2 North Brand boulevard hopes to be able to remove the protecting cast in about six weeks.

Sixty New Homes in Fairview Subdivision

Sixty new homes have been built since September 15 in the Fairview subdivision, according to Hamill & Hepburn of 203 West Broadway, selling agents. More than half of the seventh unit has been sold, according to this firm, and one of the reasons for the popularity of these lots is due not alone to the desirability of the property, but they are being provided, at terms so reasonable that anybody can buy a homestead and start a modest bungalow home of their own.

FORD GIVES AWAY TIES

LIMA, O.—While a standing order is maintained on all railroad ties to burn the rotten ties and defective pieces of wood, Henry Ford has decided to give those replaced on the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad for fuel to anyone who will haul them away. This announcement was made by T. A. Mulcahy, Lima agent for the company.

The country used to be filled with old snags; now it is filled with young suckers.

MOTION PICTURE TO AID LOCAL LEGION BUILDING FUND

"I Accuse" Will Be Presented at Glendale Theatre; Numerous Activities Outlined

The dates of March 15, 16 and 17 were announced last night as being the three days when the internationally famous motion picture production "I Accuse" will be presented on a local screen. The announcement was made at the regular weekly meeting of Glendale Post No. 127 of the American Legion, which organization has been offered a percentage of all tickets sold through its members. The management of the Glendale theatre, which will show the picture, was extended a vote of appreciation for its voluntary proposition to the post. The funds derived from this source will be turned over to the building fund of the ex-service men's organization.

The picture, which will be thoroughly advertised during the next ten days, is a French production and is said to be many to be the best foreign film that has ever been exhibited in this country. It has been shown before packed houses all over the United States for several months and its success here is practically assured.

To Attend Church
Plans were made at last night's meeting for the attendance "en masse" of the Legionnaires at the service of the West Glendale Methodist church on the night of Easter Sunday, April 16. Rev. Harley Preston, who is the pastor of that church, is the chaplain of the Legion post.

Fred A. Zerman and William E. Clark, both newcomers in this city, were initiated into the Legion during the meeting, the ceremonies being conducted by the local officers.

Among the numerous activities which are scheduled to be staged in the near future by the social and house committee of the post will be the regular monthly dance, which will be held on Saturday night of next week, and a big "get-together" smoker and entertainment, which will take place within the coming month. The dance, the arrangements of which are in charge of Chalmers Day, Gordon Clayton and Jim Henry Ilse, will be conducted in the Legion hall and is expected to be among the leading social events of the season. More complete announcements regarding the affair will be made during the coming week.

Big Reunion Planned
The smoker, which will be the first event of its kind ever staged by the Glendale post, will be given for the purpose of a reunion of all former soldiers and sailors who served in the World War and who are now living within the post's jurisdiction. No date has yet been made for the gathering, although it will take place sometime this month. Those in charge of the affair will be Frank Weller and Ray Morrow.

Announcement was made stating that the executive committee had voted to allow the Legion hall to be used by the recently organized Glendale camp of the Spanish-American war veterans on the evening of Wednesday, March 22. At that time the formal installation ceremonies of the camp will take place, the affair to be in charge of the state officers of the organization.
